

Economic Inclusion:
A Series of Discussions to Improve Financial Health in DC

Capital Area Asset Builders (CAAB)
Coalition for Nonprofit Housing and Economic Development
Comptroller of the Currency
Corporation for Enterprise Development (CFED)
District of Columbia Department of Insurance, Securities and Banking
Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC)
Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond
United Way of the National Capital Area

Invite you to join the second in a series of conversations about economic issues affecting DC's individuals, families and communities and critical tools that can measurably improve financial well-being. Like our at-capacity and lively first meeting in February, and future sessions, this meeting will consider current research and best practices. This session will focus on proven and emerging strategies to help consumers build credit and to increase acceptance of alternative approaches to credit-building. Participants can expect a robust discussion about cross-sector credit strategies that can contribute significantly to a more inclusive, equitable DC economy.

Economic Inclusion: Building Credit

When

Wednesday, May 27, 2015
9:30 am- 1 pm
Includes Networking Lunch
catered by Union Kitchen

Where

R.I.S.E. Demonstration Center
2730 Martin Luther King, Jr. Avenue, SE
Washington, DC 20032
<http://stelizabethseast.com/rise-dc/about-rise/>

Speakers will include Jeanne Hogarth of the Center for Financial Services Innovation and Dara Duguay of the Credit Builders Alliance and representatives of DC-based nonprofit organizations who are drafting or implementing new credit-building tools.

Attendance is free, but registration is required. Please register by emailing ellen.janes@rich.frb.org

Future sessions of this series will consider new financial products for unbanked and under-banked households and will aim to develop a financial inclusion action plan for DC.

Questions or suggestions? Contact Joseph Leitmann-Santa Cruz, jleitmann-santacruz@caab.org (202) 419-1440 x 102 or Ellen Janes, ellen.janes@rich.frb.org (410) 576-3389.

